Dear Public Service Commission,

Duke should quit investing in dirty, old energy like coal and nuclear, and actually invest in the cheaper renewable technologies its executives claim to support. I want the Carolinas to be more energy efficient and powered by local wind & solar that will employ thousands of Carolinians.

Sincerely,

Sarah Davis

South Carolina Public Service Commission

Dear Public Service Commission,

Duke should quit investing in dirty, old energy like coal and nuclear and invest seriously in the cheaper renewable technologies its executives claim to support. I want the Carolinas to be more energy efficient, powered by local wind & solar that will employ thousands of Carolinians in addition to decreasing the current unsustainable impact on the environment. As a health care provider, I see people suffering from increasing numbers of asthma, allergies, cancer, and other health disorders that may very well be linked to environmental pollutants. Developing sustainable, renewable energy sources that are available right around us would improve the health of our citizens and likely further improve our economy by losing less work days to illness.

Sincerely,

Morrow Dowdle
